In a talk of the U.S. Fish Commission to Lafayette Clark, about 1870, he said that about 15,000 pages of notes had been taken in the course of his work, and that they had not been整理ed. He said that he had a notebook containing an account of his 1870-71 work, and a record of his 1872 work. He had not written the notes of 1870-71 up, and had not written the notes of 1872 up.
